oh What is she pretty first produced a power point I think it's already actually so Okay, right? Okay Well, it's the kick off meeting for our project. And this is just what we're going to be doing over the next 25 minutes. So, first of all, this is to kind of make sure that we all know each other. I'm Laura and I'm a project manager. Right. Do you want to introduce yourself again? I'm David and I'm supposed to be in the best part of the business. Okay. I'm Andrew and I'm a marketing expert. I'm Greg and I'm a huge earned-face. Great. Okay. I'm sort of designing a new remote control. And, oh, I have to record he's here actually. So that's David, Andrew and Craig and that's... And you're alive, don't you? And yes, who designed a new remote control, as you can see, it's the spiritual-regional trendy and user-friendly. And so that's kind of our brief, the why. And so there are three different stages to the design. And I'm not really sure what you guys have already received in your emails. What did you get? I just got the project and that's it. Yeah, that's it. Everybody got. So we're going to have like individual work and then a meeting about it. And repeat that process three times. And at this point you get to try out the whiteboard over there. So you get to draw your favorite animal and sum up your favorite characteristics of it. So you would like to give it a hug. Very good. Alright. So.
